- A. Except as provided in subsection N of this section, every person convicted of a criminal offense, on fulfillment of the conditions of probation or sentence and discharge by the court, may apply to the court to have the judgment of guilt set aside. The convicted person shall be informed of this right at the time of sentencing. The court may issue an order that includes a certificate of second chance to a person whose judgment of guilt is set aside pursuant to subsection K or L of this section.
- B. The person or the person's attorney or probation officer may apply to set aside the judgment. The clerk of the court may not charge a filing fee for an application to have a judgment of guilt set aside.
- C. The court shall consider the following factors when determining whether to set aside the conviction:
1. The nature and circumstances of the offense that the conviction is based on.
 2. The applicant's compliance with the conditions of probation, the sentence imposed and any state department of corrections' rules or regulations, if applicable.
 3. Any prior or subsequent convictions.
 4. The victim's input and the status of victim restitution, if any.
 5. The length of time that has elapsed since the completion of the applicant's sentence.
 6. The applicant's age at the time of the conviction.
 7. Any other factor that is relevant to the application.
- D. If the application is granted, the court shall set aside the judgment of guilt, dismiss the complaint, information or indictment and order that the person be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the conviction except those imposed by:
1. The department of transportation pursuant to section 28-3304, 28-3305, 28-3306, 28-3307, 28-3308, 28-3312 or 28-3319.
 2. The game and fish commission pursuant to section 17-314 or 17-340.

- F. The clerk of the court must notify the department of public safety if a conviction is set aside. The department of public safety must update the person's criminal history with an annotation that the conviction has been set aside and, if applicable, a certificate of second chance has been issued but may not redact or remove any part of the person's record.
- G. This section does not:
1. Require a law enforcement agency to redact or remove a record or information from the record of a person whose conviction is set aside.

If the victim has made a request for postconviction notice, the attorney for the state shall provide the victim with notice of the defendant's application, whether the person is eligible for a certificate of second chance and of the rights provided to the victim in this section.

- K. If the court grants the application to set aside the judgment of guilt, the court's order must include a certificate of second chance if the person has not previously received a certificate of second chance and the person was convicted of a misdemeanor, if the person was convicted of a class 4, 5 or 6 felony and at least two years have elapsed since the person fulfilled the conditions of probation or sentence or if the person was convicted of a class 2 or 3 felony and at least five years have elapsed since the person fulfilled the conditions of probation or sentence. NOTE: Pursuant to ARS 13-905, an Application to Set Aside Conviction does not mean that the court will seal the record of your arrest or conviction or restrict public inspection of the record, nor respond to inquiries relating to your conviction as though the conviction never occurred. You may be required to disclose a conviction which has been set aside in applications for certain licenses. The court cannot deny anyone the right to look at the court file or obtain a copy of the original citation, complaint, sentence or conviction.

The Motor Vehicle Department has no authority to suppress convictions and suspensions from the driving record. The Motor Vehicle Department will not remove any points from your driving record and the information is available to an insurance agency.

If the conviction is set aside, the record of the original sentence or conviction will be followed by a court entry indicating that an application to set aside the conviction was granted. However, the conviction will not be removed from your record.
